

Teacher Torture

During the weeks leading up to the October Mid-Term break Students at Portlaoise College have been voting for their favourite teacher to be tortured. The teacher torture event was held on the last day of term while the judges from the talent show decided on a winner.

The teachers that made it into the final five were:

- Mr Murphy- had to get a part of his leg waxed.
- Ms Ryan- had to dress up as a Hippy and dance in front of the school.
- Mr Hally- had to dress up as a baby and have students throw dodge balls at him.
- Ms Duggan- had to dress up and sing "Nelly the Elephant"
- Mr Gleeson- had to dress up in a Portlaoise College school uniform.

In the end Mr Murphy won by a landslide and had to go through the painful process of getting his legs waxed. Even Ms Jordan and Ms Bolland paid to help out with the waxing.

As it was unfair that Mr Murphy was the only teacher to be tortured, the 4 runners up decided to complete their "torture"

The spectators of students, teachers and parents really enjoyed the show and it was a great end to our first term of 2011/12. The event successfully raised €250 for the students going on the trip to The Gambia.
